

EISENHOWER REFUSES TO RESCIND ORDER

About Town

And Country

J. Lester Buford Is Endorsed for National School Post

EDUCATION DEPT.: One of the most dynamic little fellows I ever chanced to meet was John Lester Buford. J. Lester was principal of the Galatia high school and he went from there to Eldorado high in the same capacity. Next move, if my memory serves me correctly, was to the principalship at Johnson City. Then he went to Mt. Vernon, where he has been superintendent of city schools since 1937.

In the May issue of the magazine, Illinois Education, is a two-page spread about Mr. Buford. Titled "The Man from Mt. Vernon," the short article reveals that he is a candidate for first vice president of the National Education association, endorsed by the Illinois Education association and all its affiliated sections.

Accompanying the article are 10 photographs which show the man from Mt. Vernon in various phases of his activities at Mt. Vernon.

BACK HOME (But still in Education Dept.): We know by looking at the calendar that the end of the present school term is upon us. But we got a chuckle out of the approach to the situation on the part of Russell Malan, Harrisburg city school superintendent, who wrote in the current school bulletin:

"Teachers should begin now on the problem of getting children to take home coats, sweaters, caps, boots, etc. Cloakrooms and lockers at the end of the year are always loaded with some good garments that belong to children in the school. If we start on this matter now, so much will not have to be done in the last day or two (of school)."

Sounds natural, doesn't it, mothers?

WE HAD A COLUMN yesterday about Paul McKinnis, Eldorado, who officiates Big Ten and other college games. The question came up as to how McKinnis makes his traveling connections.

The games are on week-ends and in most cases he flies. He motors to Evansville and catches an airliner. On a few occasions, like when he's at Northwestern, he takes a train.

HUMOR DEPT.: The sergeant was drilling new recruits. It was a hectic job. Finally he noticed that one man alone was out of step.

"Do you know, soldier," he said sarcastically, "that they're all out of step except you?"

"Well," replied the rookie with supreme nonchalance, "you're in charge here—tell 'em!"

George Milburn of Near Stonefort Dies

George Milburn, 75, died this morning of a heart attack at his home, Stonefort RFD 1, in the New Castle community.

He is survived by his wife, Sarah; four children: George Milburn Jr., and Mrs. William (Blanch) Tanner, both of Stonefort RFD 1, McClellan Milburn and Mrs. Denny (Iva) Moore, both of Carrier Mills; two brothers, Walter Milburn and Frank Milburn, both of Carrier Mills; 12 grandchildren, 11 great-grandchildren, and one great-great-grandchild.

He also reared another child, Edna Dunn, who survives him.

The body will be taken from the Miller funeral home in Carrier Mills to the residence today at 6 p. m. Funeral arrangements are incomplete.

Mr. Milburn was last employed in 1938 at the Wasson No. 2 Coal Mine.

Two Galatia Business Places Burglarized

Two Galatia business places were burglarized Monday night, Sheriff Paul Spangler reported yesterday.

Entered were the Jones drug store and Hill's food market. Undetermined amounts of cash were taken from both places.

U. S. Ready to Force Alliance Without Britain

Eisenhower Says
Basic Policy is Collective Action

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower indicated today that the United States is prepared, if necessary, to force a southeast Asian alliance against Communist aggression without Britain.

Mr. Eisenhower also told a news conference he is trying to figure out how the United States might go ahead in an enlightened way without Russia or anybody else on international development of his atoms-for-peace program.

On southeast Asia, the President said the basic policy of the United States continues to be to work through collective action to develop proper political backgrounds and to defeat Red aggression.

Asked if a southeast Asian alliance could be built effectively without Britain, the President said that Australia and New Zealand are British Commonwealth countries most directly involved in the area.

Homes Britain Will Join
With Australia, New Zealand and what he described as proper Asian countries, the President said something could be worked out in the way of an alliance. But he obviously hoped that Britain would go along.

The President's comment came amid reports from London that Britain had agreed to military staff talks immediately in Washington on the southeast Asian crisis.

While the staff talks could be held, there was no sign that the British government was backing down on its determination not to make military or political commitments pending the outcome of the Geneva conference.

This would indicate that military staff talks largely will be a review of requirements which might be needed in southeast Asia.

Air of Pessimism
On the atoms-for-peace plan, there has been an air of pessimism in official quarters since Secretary of State John Foster Dulles and Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov held private talks on it at Geneva.

The administration, meanwhile, banked on high-level talks with New Zealand to stimulate Allied support for a southeast Asia alliance against communism.

Legion and VFW Auxiliaries To Sell Poppies

Saturday, May 22, the local Veterans of Foreign Wars Auxiliary and the American Legion Auxiliary will hold their annual Poppy sale.

This is one of the few chances that local people have of paying homage to those who gave so much for their country during times of war. The Poppy also brings an opportunity to help those brave men and women who are still suffering because they served.

The little flower, itself, comes from the hands of the disabled veterans and contributions go entirely to aid the disabled and the dependent families.

It is an inspiration to the veteran making the poppies to know that he is helping not only himself when he makes poppies, but he is also helping the American Legion and the American Legion Auxiliary, the Veterans of Foreign Wars and VFW Auxiliary carry on their programs of rehabilitation and child welfare, and thus he helps other veterans and their families.

Part of the money from the VFW Auxiliary poppy sale will go to support the Veterans of Foreign Wars National Home for Widows and Orphans at Eaton Rapids, Mich. The cottages at the VFW home are actually home-type brick structures erected at a cost of around $25,000 each. Each cottage is named after the state which contributed funds for the erection of the building.

Veterans Administration officials have always regarded the making of Poppies by disabled veterans as a valuable form of occupational therapy. This experience is regarded as a morale booster for convalescent patients, who benefit from the psychological reaction of proving useful to themselves and to the cause which the poppy represents.

This year ahead will be brighter for them because of the poppies worn on Poppy Day.

Senate Group Rejects Eisenhower Request for More Liberal Home Loans

By United Press
The Senate Banking committee today rejected President Eisenhower's request for more liberal government-insured home improvement loans.

The committee also voted to make banks more responsible in curbing the defrauding of homeowners on home improvement loans.

In an attempt to protect homeowners against abuses, the committee voted to make banks share the risk on home improvement loans. The loans, in effect, now are guaranteed 100 per cent by the government. The banks, therefore, could not lose any money no matter how bad the loan. The committee decided that hereafter the government should guarantee only 85 per cent of the loan, and the lender assume a 15 per cent risk.

Other developments: The House Appropriations committee skipped voting on a bigger salary, but decided to give them more money to operate their offices. The committee voted the members more money for clerical hire, stationery, stamps and long distance telephone calls.

Television: Chairman Rosel H. Hyde of the Federal Communications Commission said ultra high frequency television stations are having a tough time because ordinary TV sets can't receive their programs, and not many people are rushing out to buy the special kind of set that will pick up UHF.

A Senate Commerce subcommittee is trying to devise some way to help the UHF stations.

Liquor Ads: Methodist Bishop Wilbur E. Hammaker, president of the National Temperance and Prohibition Council, denounced liquor advertising in newspapers and magazines and beer advertising on radio and television as "an insolent intruder" in American homes. He testified at a House Commerce committee hearing on an often-proposed, never-adopted bill to ban such ads.

A long list of congressmen, temperance group leaders, advertising, liquor and brews representatives lined up to be heard on the proposal.

The committee also has before it a bill sponsored by Rep. John D. Dingell (D-Mich.) which would apply the advertising ban to cigars, cigarettes and all other tobacco products.

Although Bryson's bill does not mention television specifically, it would probably apply to telecasts—certainly those on film. The television industry does not accept hard liquor advertising.

Buyers Warned on '54 Purchases
Each person who buys wheat from a producer during 1954-55 is liable for the amount of the marketing quota penalty due on "excess" wheat of the 1954 crop, Mr. Alvey pointed out today. Since marketing quotas are in effect for the 1954 crop, farmers who do not comply with their farm wheat acreage allotments (or permitted acreages) become subject to a lien on their crop until the marketing quota penalty is paid.

"Where anyone purchases wheat from a producer, he should be certain that such producer is eligible to sell his wheat," Mr. Alvey declared. "He should, therefore, request the producer to present a wheat marketing card or marketing certificate at the time the wheat is offered for sale."

"Failure to present a marketing card or certificate at the time of sale will be evidence that the wheat is not clear of lien for the penalty, and the buyer will be held responsible for the lien the same as he would be for purchasing wheat with any other lien attached."

The buyer may, however, protect himself by deducting the penalty from the price paid for any wheat which he purchases and for which the producer cannot furnish a marketing card or marketing certificate. He also has the same type of protection in purchasing wheat from an "intermediate buyer."

Those buyers who purchase wheat from anyone other than a producer or intermediate buyer will not be held responsible since the first purchaser of the wheat is liable for the total amount of the penalty unless a marketing card, a marketing certificate, or an intermediate buyer's record and report showing satisfaction of the penalty is presented at the time of purchase.

Auto Show Here
Thursday, Friday

Harrisburg auto dealers will display their motorized prizes and joys uptown Thursday and Friday.

The dealers, co-operating with the Harrisburg Junior Chamber of Commerce, will stage a big two-day showing of 1954 model automobiles. Almost every make of car will be represented.

Dealers will display their latest cars on the north side of the public square. Time of the show will be from 9 a. m. to 8 p. m. on Thursday and 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. on Friday.

In addition, three $10 baskets of groceries will be awarded at 4 p. m. Friday. There is no obligation to be eligible for the awards. All anybody needs to do is to register at the Auto Show.

While the autos are on display, salesmen will be available to talk with persons interested in new cars and late model used cars.

The committee rejected a proposal that the maximum government insured loans for home improvement be raised from $2,500 to $3,000 and the repayment time lengthened from three to five years.

In an attempt to protect homeowners against abuses, the committee voted to make banks share the risk on home improvement loans. The loans, in effect, now are guaranteed 100 per cent by the government. The banks, therefore, could not lose any money no matter how bad the loan. Gene Bland is Named Cage Coach at HTHS

Former Cairo Man
Will Come Here
From Florida Post

Gene Bland, formerly of Cairo, has been hired as head basketball coach at Harrisburg Township high school. It was announced today by Principal Raymond L. Foster. Lawrence Caluffetti will be athletic director and head football coach.

Mr. Bland, who coached football and basketball at Cairo for eight years before going to Lakewood, Fla., as coach last year, was hired by the HTHS board of education yesterday afternoon following his recommendation by a committee composed of three board members that had been appointed to find a cage mentor.

He takes over a job left vacant during the Christmas holidays when Ralph Davison departed. Caluffetti, who had been first assistant under Davison, took over the head coaching duties for the rest of the season.

Under the new setup Caluffetti will be head football coach and Bland will be his assistant in that sport. In basketball Caluffetti will be Bland's assistant and in the spring sports one will take over track and the other baseball. Bland probably will teach driver education.

Graduate of Cairo High

Bland, who is 38 years old and married, will come to Harrisburg shortly after June 9, when his school in Florida ends its term, and confer about his new post.

A graduate of Cairo high school, Bland received a Bachelor of Science degree from Murray State Teachers college, Murray, Ky., in 1950, majoring in social sciences and physical education, and received his Master's degree from Peabody college, Nashville, Tenn., in 1947.

Following two years of teaching in the Cairo elementary school system and one year of coaching basketball at Franklin, Ky., high school, Bland spent three years in the military service during World War II.

He returned to Cairo and coached football and basketball and directed physical education for eight years before taking the Florida post last season.

In teaching driver education he would succeed John VanderPluym, last year's instructor who resigned recently to become football coach at McLeansboro high school.

Kiwanians Given
Tests on American History by Wilson

Kiwanians last night were given an American History test which was representative of the tests now required in all public schools, by R. Dale Wilson, county superintendent of schools.

Mr. Wilson explained the new Illinois law which requires the teaching of patriotism and principles of government in all social studies, civics and history courses. The non-controversial legislation had the support of all educational groups and patriotic organizations, he said.

Students should have a background knowledge of the U. S. Constitution, the Declaration of Independence, the Illinois Constitution and the county government, Mr. Wilson said. The legislation is good as it points up to good citizenship, he added.

Tests given the Kiwanians which were graded by themselves were representative of those given in the high school and in Junior high. Eugene Morris was program chairman for last night's meeting. Twenty-four members of the Marion Kiwanis club attended the meeting last night at the Masonic temple. Hubert Fulkerson, vice president of the Marion club, presented John Schork, president of the Harrisburg club the traveling plaque which will be awarded the winner of interclub attendance contest in Kiwanis Division 16. The Marion club received the plaque from the Goreville club and the Harrisburg club will take it to either Herrin or Carbondale within the next two weeks.

John W. Poole was a guest of H. C. Dempsey at last night's meeting and Charles D. Taylor was a guest of J. E. Rose.

Chinese Nationalists Rush Defense Against Invasion Of Taichen Islands by Reds

TAIPEH, Formosa (AP) — The Nationalist government was reportedly rushing preparations Thursday to ward off an invasion by Chinese Communist forces of the strategic Taichen Islands, expected within 48 hours to three days.

Authoritative sources said Chiang Kai-shek, elder son of Gen. Chiang Kai-shek and head of his father's security forces, has rushed to the area and ordered all non-combatants evacuated.

Naval and air battles have raged around and over the islands, known as "the invasion bridge to Formosa," for the past week. The islands, lying some 200 miles south of Shanghai, are highly strategic in the blockade of the China Coast.

F47s Knock Down MIG
The air and naval battles were marked Wednesday by a Nationalist propeller-driven plane's reported victory over a Russian-built MIG15 jet fighter. The Nationalist plane, an F47, knocked the sleek jet out of the skies to become the second propeller-driven plane in history to shoot down a jet. An American plane shot down

Miley Calls
County Chairmen
To Meet May 24

Robert G. Miley of Galatia, president of the Illinois Republican County Chairmen's association, today announced he was calling the 102 chairman members together at 10 a. m. (Daylight time) Monday, May 24, at Springfield to organize and elect officers.

Mr. Miley, who also is chairman of the Saline County Republican Central committee, has served as president of the state group for the past two years.

This organization meeting will be held at the Abraham Lincoln hotel, where a luncheon will be at 1 p. m.

Besides the 102 county chairmen, the following will attend the luncheon: Governor William G. Stratton and the other state officers, C. Wayland Brooks, national committeeman; Mrs. Wesley M. Dixon, national committeewoman; Morton H. Hollingsworth, chairman of the Republican State Central committee; Mrs. Gladys Laws, chairman of the Women's Republican Federated clubs; Joe Meek, candidate for U. S. Senator; Warren Wright, candidate for state treasurer; Vernon L. Nickell, seeking re-election as state superintendent of public instruction; and others. Sen. Everett Dirksen will be present if he can leave his duties in Washington.

Three Graduating Exercises for Rural Students

There will be three group graduating exercises for rural graduates at three centers this year on Monday, Wednesday and Thursday evenings of next week, R. Dale Wilson, county superintendent of schools, announced today.

The graduates in the Galatia area will have their commencement at Galatia high school Monday evening, those in the Eldorado area at Eldorado high school Wednesday evening and those in the Harrisburg area at HTHS Thursday evening.

Atty. George B. Lee will be the speaker at the Galatia and Eldorado commencements and State's Attorney Glen O. Jones will speak at the Harrisburg exercises.

Balloon Soars 23 Miles Above Earth's Surface

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP)—A giant plastic balloon collected "substantial data" on the still-unresolved mysteries of cosmic rays when it floated into the border between the earth's atmosphere and the void of outer space, a University of Minnesota professor said today.

The device, dubbed "Super Sky Hook," was the world's largest unmanned plastic balloon. It soared to about 120,000 feet Tuesday before bursting in the rarified atmosphere 23 miles above the earth's surface.

Prof. John Winckler of Minnesota said the experiment, conducted by General Mills for the Office of Naval Research, was "successful, but not perfect."

He said some "technical troubles" were encountered, but not enough to seriously diminish the flow of information which was relayed by special electronic circuits from the balloon to a university laboratory.

Winckler said the data obtained would not contribute much to space travel. But he said it would help scientists in their efforts to determine the origin of cosmic rays, knowledge which could help solve the mystery of the origin of the universe itself. He and other scientists, think the data collected will keep them busy for months.

The balloon, as tall as an 18-story building, was elongated and only partly filled with helium when it was released. But as it rose higher and higher air pressure on the plastic surface decreased it expanded until at 120,000 feet it popped like a child's balloon on the end of a pin.

House Committee
Votes Extension
Of Social Security

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House Ways and Means Committee has voted tentatively to extend social security coverage to about 500,000 ministers and domestic, federal and "casual" workers.

They are part of the 10½ million employees not now getting social security that President Eisenhower asked Congress to put under the old age and survivors' insurance program. The remainder will be considered in committee sessions later this week.

The group approved Tuesday consists of additional domestic workers, odd job employees, ministers who wish coverage on a voluntary basis and federal employees not covered by federal retirement plans.

Ed C. Capehart
Dies; Funeral
Friday 2:30 p. m.

Ed C. Capehart, resident of Harrisburg for over 25 years, died Tuesday at 9 p. m. at his home, 318 West College street. He was the husband of the former Flossie Marlin, and had been ill for six weeks.

Mr. Capehart was born in Bolesville, community south of Old Shawneetown, May 8, 1883, and was last employed with the Tony Thompson and Son Construction company.

He was the son of the late Margaret Williams and Milton Capehart.

Surviving besides his wife are four children: Mrs. Steve (Wanda) Barts, Indianapolis, Ind.; Mrs. William (Nathalie) Barts, Harrisburg, Md.; Grattan M. Capehart, Cheyenne, Wyoming; and Raymond E. Capehart, Indianapolis, Ind.; ten grandchildren, and one sister, Mrs. Albert Edwards, Carmi.

The funeral will be Friday at 2:30 p. m. at the Gaskins funeral home. Burial will be in the Sunset Lawn cemetery.

The body will lie in state at the funeral home.

President Says Army Hearings Should Continue

Believes Order
Should Not Prevent
Getting the Facts

BULLETIN
WASHINGTON (AP) — Army Secretary Robert T. Stevens said today the "Army alone" is responsible for its decisions in the dispute with Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy and that it never has received orders from anyone on the case.

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower said emphatically today he has no intention whatsoever of rescinding or relaxing his order against administration officials testifying in the Army-McCarthy hearing on their confidential talks.

And, just as firmly, he said he thinks the hearings should continue until all the facts have been presented to the subcommittee.

Some members of the subcommittee have said there is no use going ahead unless Mr. Eisenhower modifies his order, which forbade administration witnesses to testify about a Jan. 21 meeting of White House, Justice Department and Army officials.

Disagrees With McCarthy
Mr. Eisenhower told his news conference that his executive order should not keep the subcommittee from getting any of the pertinent facts.

Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis.) said Tuesday "We can't possibly resume the hearings unless we are allowed to get the facts." He called the President's order an "iron curtain."

Mr. Eisenhower said he is anxious for the hearings to end as soon as possible, but not before it has been conclusive. Let the chips fall where they may, he said, let's have the facts.

He said he is extremely concerned that the hearing is diverting attention from the more important world and domestic issues and delaying enactment of his legislative program.

Stevens to Make Statement
Army Secretary Robert T. Stevens soon will make a statement on whether the administration's responsibility in the dispute has passed from the Army secretary to a higher authority.

But Mr. Eisenhower indicated clearly that Stevens probably will say that the Army still bears the responsibility.

Sen. John McClellan (D-Ark.) a subcommittee member brought up this question Monday after Army counsel John G. Adams declined to comment on the Jan. 21 meeting. Mr. Eisenhower's executive order was issued Monday to back up Adams in this refusal.

McClellan had asked Adams if responsibility for dealing with the McCarthy situation had passed from the Army to higher authority as a result of the Jan. 21 meeting. Adams declined to answer under the presidential order.

Mr. Eisenhower said his order was a moderate and reasonable statement of the proper division

HOLLYWOOD—(NEA)—Exclusively Yours: Only a few friends and family members have heard the details of Maria Riva's critical illness that almost snuffed out her life last year.

But now I can reveal that the daughter of Marlene Dietrich spent eight days near death in a bout with deadly bulbar polio in Israel last summer.

Maria told me the story in a quiet, hushed voice. She had gone to Israel to costar in a TV series and to build a cerebral palsy clinic. She returned to her hotel one night and:

"I began to feel a splitting headache. It was as though my brains were trying to push out of my skull. For eight days, I was unconscious and they were certain I was going to die. I lost 30 pounds. Then I came out of it, by some miracle, and I heard myself saying, 'Where am I?'"

"That broke me up. No actress can afford to say, 'Where am I?' I started to laugh. My husband says it was the most frightening thing in the world — to hear someone come back from death laughing."

An Irma-brained starlet, hearing that Warner Bros. will produce "Lewis and Clark" in Cinemas, said it:

"Gosh, it's like they said. Jerry Lewis is getting a new partner."

Mitzi Gaynor and her mother, who's guided the dancing star's career since she was a half-pint, are living under separate roofs and hardly talking. The reason:

Mom's objections to the masterminding of Mitzi's career by Jack Bean, the boy friend, and to Jack's drastic move in asking Fox to release her from her contract.

Ina Claire, once married to John Gilbert, has agreed to face movie cameras again in "The Catch a Thief." Alfred Hitchcock did the persuading. . . Ricardo Montalban's hand infection, once feared to be something worse, turned out to be a jungle fungus that he contracted in the Vera Cruz wilds while filming scenes for "Green Shadows."

CARLA BELENDIA, who wangled her release from RKO just as the studio was ready to push her to important stardom, won out over every other doll as Mickey Rooney's costar in his new television series, "Hey Mulligan."

The identity of Eva Gabor's secret heart, a noted British star, would sprout hair on a billiard ball. It's almost as headline-making, if it could be told, as Zsa Zsa and Rubirosa. . . It's signed and settled for Victory Jory to play the role of Captain Ahab in Hallmark Playhouse's "Moby Dick" telecast May 16.

"The picture was horrible—give me EVERYBODY'S money back."

Ingrid Bergman's quotes to a British scribe:

"Only one thing makes me want to go back to America. I long to see my daughter. She's 15 now and I haven't seen her for two years. It is very hard."

Employees Give Firm a Plaque

PHILADELPHIA—(AP)—Employees of a wool-sponging firm here have given the company's management a plaque for service above and beyond the call of its labor contract.

The plaque was presented to Mrs. Frederic Lee Hess, wife of the late president of the Schwarzwald Co., "in grateful appreciation of more than 20 years of a mutually co-operative relationship."

"These years," the plaque reads, "exemplify the finest traditions of collective bargaining and have brought an everlasting measure of security, dignity and respect."

When a worker retires from the firm he receives his usual retirement pay from the CIO Amalgamated Clothing Workers Union. But the company kicks in some more money, although it is not contractually obliged to.

An ill worker gets weekly sickness benefits from the union, but the company adds enough to bring it up to the worker's base pay, also with contractual obligation.

The firm's labor contract between the workers and the firm was signed when the depression was at its worst. There's never been a strike.

Rescue Ass'n to Meet at Benton

The annual spring meeting of Post No. 4, National Mine Rescue association, will be held Saturday afternoon and evening at the Benton country club.

Post 4 is composed of members from Illinois, Indiana, West Kentucky, Iowa and Missouri. Speakers will include Charles Ferguson, director, safety division, U. S. M. A., Washington, D. C.; James Westfield, chief of health and safety, U. S. Bureau of Mines, Washington, D. C.; Murrell Reak, assistant director of mines and minerals, Springfield; A. D. Sisk, chief of the Kentucky department of mines, Lexington; E. E. Quenon, chief of the Vincennes (Ind.) branch, U. S. Bureau of Mines; W. R. Chick, coal mine inspector, Benton.

Post 4 officers are L. H. Johnson, Taylorville, president; George Stachura, Benton, vice president; C. L. South, Benton, secretary.

The Illinois champion first aid team from Peabody 10, Taylorville, and the Illinois champion mine rescue team from Peabody 40, Harrisburg, will be guests of the post at the meeting and banquet. Members of the No. 40 mine rescue team are Fred Rice, captain, Gene Roberts, James Keating, Donald Vineyard and Herb Pennell.

The afternoon meeting will start at 2 p. m. The evening meeting is a banquet affair.

Gain by Speeding Relatively Small

PHILADELPHIA—(AP)—A speeding motorist is a person who is getting no place in a hurry, according to Edward P. Curran, safety director of the Keystone Automobile Club.

Curran said it is a fact that "although a fast driver may arrive at his destination more quickly than another motorist driving more slowly, he actually doesn't save very much time."

In explanation, the safety director cited an example. According to statistics compiled by the automobile club, a 10-mile trip at 20 miles per hour would take 30 minutes, at 30 miles per hour 20 minutes and at 40 miles per hour it would require seven and a half minutes.

Proportionately, Curran explained, the increase in speed for the simple reason that fast-traveling motorists have less time to perceive, judge and act in an emergency," he said.

"It is evident that the accident potential increases in ratio to the speed. So, speeding really worth the little time saved?"

Woodrow Wilson issued the first Mother's Day proclamation.

CHICAGO—(AP)—The American Dental Association reports that the United States has 93,726 dentists, or one for every 1,677 persons. The association's newly published American Dental Directory lists 85,970 civilian dentists and 7,756 serving in the armed forces. There are an additional 599 dentists in U. S. territories and possessions. In general, the ADA said, the east and west coasts are served by more dentists in proportion to the population than any other section of the country.

The most favorable ratio is found in the region including Delaware, the District of Columbia, Maryland, New Jersey, New York, Pennsylvania and West Virginia. In this area there is one dentist for each 1,413 persons.

THE STORY: Although relations between Lenny Dahlstrom, bride of Tom Dahlstrom, and her mother-in-law who lives with the young married couple are respectful, Lenny senses that she has not won the approval of Tom's mother. Instead, Lenny feels that her mother-in-law regrets Tom's marriage and that days of misery are in store for her.

IX
Through the window Elaine could see the broad, rolling field near the forest where Tom's plow was turning over neat ribbons of moist, black soil.

"Please let me take the lunch to the menfolk," she pleaded. Then she added shyly, "Perhaps there's enough coffee in the thermos for me, too."

Quickly, Mrs. Dahlstrom cut off two more slices of the fragrant bread, scraped butter across, dabbed on a spoonful of jam, and clapped them together.

She put the sandwich with the others in the white napkin and added another cup before she handed the basket to Elaine and said, "I suppose you don't approve of between-meal snacks."

For a brief moment Elaine had the sensation, incomprehensible though it was, that Mrs. Dahlstrom wanted her approval. Pushing aside the thought, she nevertheless agreed with complete honesty. "We made a lot of experiments at school that proved that laboring men—and women, too—need that extra energy. They can do better work, too, after they've had a coffee break."

"Well," Mrs. Dahlstrom rejoined, "I hope Tom will take one. He was in such a hurry to get out in the field this morning he hardly touched his breakfast."

Elaine smiled and tried to sound cheerful and confident. "Oh, I'll make him eat something." The icy look came back to Mrs. Dahlstrom's eyes and she spoke through tight lips. "A Dahlstrom doesn't take to nagging."

Trying to run away from this new hurt, Elaine flung out the door and hurried down the path toward the lane.

The few moments with Tom and the brisk hike back through the stubble fields made her feel better. It was almost peculiar how dense Tom was as far as his mother was concerned. He didn't seem to think anything was amiss. He was just happy, thoroughly happy, to be home.

Tom would be happy here even without her, she decided. If things came to a showdown between his mother and her, which would he choose? His mother and the farm? Or her? Well, maybe the decision would never have to be made. It was up to her. If only she had the poise and assurance of Astrid Nelson. Then she would have never broken that old blue plate. And she would never have gone cold and stupid with apprehension if an old girl friend of Tom's had come to call.

Dreading the moment when she must step into the kitchen again, Elaine dallied at the water tank and absently rubbed the forelock of the old brown horse indolently mouthing the clear, cool water. He tolerated the attention for a few seconds, then he tossed his head out of reach, throwing a spray of water across Elaine's sweater. Flattening his ears he, too, seemed to stare with disapproval at her.

Taking a lump of sugar from the basket, she held it out to him. He licked it from her hand. Then he tossed his head again, disdainfully, and backed out of reach. Elaine sighed. Even the old horse wasn't going to accept her without a bit of discord first.

She started up the hill. In spite of her awkward thumb, Mrs. Dahlstrom was rolling out a mound of dough on a large, square breadboard.

Elaine set the basket on the sink drainboard and listened to the flutter of her heart for a second before she said, "Let me do that for you."

"Do you know how to make doughnuts?" Mrs. Dahlstrom asked skeptically. Elaine sensed a challenge in the woman's voice, too. The rolling pin began to move less vigorously.

Here was Elaine's chance to show she wasn't as helpless as she appeared! Slipping off her sweater, Elaine replied, "I was a home economics major."

She was certain, when Mrs. Dahlstrom surrendered the rolling pin to her, it wasn't because she really wanted help. Mrs. Dahlstrom would treat an almost deadly wound as though it were a mere scratch. The bruise on her thumb was worth no notice at all. It was only that the woman wanted to see if Elaine could do a decent job. Elaine quaked inwardly when

Mrs. Dahlstrom sat down by the window to watch and satisfy her curiosity.

The familiar movements of her task began to soothe Elaine's jagged nerves. Breaking the awkward silence that always seemed to engulf her and Mrs. Dahlstrom, she said, "What's the name of that old brown horse?"

Mrs. Dahlstrom twisted the thick gold band on her finger and said softly, "Rex." Her voice began to vibrate with emotion as she continued, "Poor old nag. Good for nothing except fox meat. Mr. Dahlstrom was very fond of Rex. I couldn't sell the old beast to the toxes. He's earned a rest."

Again, Elaine wanted to say something kind. But, for her, it was impossible to express sympathy to this woman, who always managed to stay reserved and aloof. Self-consciously, Elaine said, "I don't think Rex is very fond of anyone."

The other shook her head. "Rex used to be a wild one," she said, recalling other, happier days. "Years ago we didn't have tractors, you know. My husband, Torvald, was the only man in these parts who could handle Rex."

Youth Moves 500 Pound Rock to Free Boys from Drowning

WHITING, Ind. — An 18-year-old former athlete moved a 500-pound rock while saving two 12-year-old boys from drowning Tuesday night.

Charles B. Hulsey, a wrestler and football player while at Hammond Tech (Ind.) High School, rescued William Jones Jr. and Paul Poprocki, both of Whiting, after a rock slide hurtled them into Whiting Lake.

Jones' arm was pinned under a 500-pound boulder at the lake's edge.

Hulsey, in his car about 35 feet away, heard the screams of the two boys. He rescued the Poprocki boy first and then saw Jones pinned under the rock while three to five-foot high waves washed over him.

It took Hulsey 35 minutes to free the Jones boy's pinned arm.

Minister and Wife Are Killed in Crash

FONDA, Iowa — The Rev. Roy W. Merrifield, 73, and his wife, 63, were killed Tuesday when their car was struck by an Illinois Central locomotive.

Merrifield came to Fonda from Ellsworth, Minn., two years ago and was pastor of the Congregational church here.

The couple's car was carried along the track for about 160 feet. The crossing has no automatic warning signal and is partly obscured by a building.

The couple is survived by four children.

Conservation Dep't To Publish New Free Magazine

SPRINGFIELD — The State Conservation Dept. which halted a paid subscription quarterly magazine as an economy measure last year, will put out the first issue of a new free magazine about June 1, it was announced today.

Assistant Conservation Director Lewis E. Martin said despite the fact it is being given away, the new magazine will cost only about two-thirds as much per issue as the abolished "For Sale" magazine.

He said there will be "nothing fancy" about the new publication and its main purpose will be "conservation education."

The magazine will be a "digest type" in black and white with a third color on the cover, Martin said. He said the first issue will contain 32 pages.

Articles were written by persons in state conservation, wildlife, and biological services, and allied educational fields, he said.

"The magazine will have no pictures and perhaps lacks attractiveness from that standpoint," Martin said. "But it is educational and that's what we want."

"The old magazine wasn't getting in the hands of the right people, only those willing to pay the 25 cents an issue," he said. "This one will be sent to all the

U. S., Pakistan Sign Military Aid Agreement

KARACHI, Pakistan — Pakistan and the United States signed a military aid agreement today, bringing this strategic Southeast Asian nation into the network of free nations armed with American help.

Pakistan's Foreign Minister Zafarullah Khan and U. S. Charge D'Affaires John Emmerson initiated the pact over bitter objections of Soviet Russia and neutral India.

It qualifies Pakistan for aid under the U. S. Mutual Security Act, global successor to the Marshall Plan and a program that already has helped build NATO armies in Europe and strengthened South Korea and Japan in Asia.

The signing took place before a backdrop of rioting and intrigue that underlined the importance of Pakistan's position below Russia's southern border.

Labor riots in East Pakistan killed more than 300 persons during the week end and Prime Minister Mohammed Ali charged that Communists joined other anti-

TYPING CHAMPS—Martha Armistead (left), who was first, and Rhonda Jones, second, in the Typewriting contest at Harrisburg Township high school.

Pakistani elements in stirring up the bloodshed.

Ali ordered a sweep-up of subversive elements and so far nine alleged Communists have been seized here.

Russia formally protested the negotiations for American aid as a threat to Soviet security. India's Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru, on the other hand, accused neighboring Pakistan of planning a military force to upset joint control of Kashmir, a rich province administered under United Nations supervision.

Clapp's Term as TVA Chairman Ends

WASHINGTON (UP)—Gordon R. Clapp's term as chairman of the Tennessee Valley Authority ended at midnight with no indication from the White House as to who would be picked to succeed him.

A government career man, Clapp joined the TVA when it was created in 1933. He was named chairman of the board of directors by President Truman in 1946 and was confirmed by the Senate over the bitter opposition of former Sen. Kenneth D. McKellar (D-Tenn.).

Numerous requests have been made to President Eisenhower that he reappoint Clapp to his post. Twenty Democrats from the five states in the TVA area made the appeal in person earlier this month.

Flood Emergency Declared in Idaho Area; Texas and New Mexico Hit

By United Press

Idaho state health officials prepared to fly typhoid vaccine to Bonners Ferry, Idaho, today as the Kootenai river surged near flood stage. Troops stood by for emergency duty.

Meanwhile, housewives did their dusting with shovels at Roswell, and Lovington, N. M., and at Big Spring, Tex., scene of flash floods Monday and Tuesday. The flood waters had ebbed today, although more scattered rain was forecast for the Southwest.

The Bonners Ferry area of Idaho has been declared an emergency area by state officials. Leonard Wood, who made the announcement in the absence of Gov. Len Jordan, said the action was taken to make emergency state and federal aid available if the Kootenai spills out of its banks.

River Near Flood Stage

The river rose to a level of 29.6 feet late Tuesday—just 1 1/2 feet below official flood stage. State Engineer Mark Kulp said dikes built after the serious 1948 flood could withstand a level of 34 feet, but only for a short time.

An Army convoy of 36 vehicles from the Yakima, Wash., firing center was camped in the Bonners Ferry area and 400 troops at Fort Lewis, Wash., were alerted for possible flood duty.

Fairly heavy rains drenched much of the Southwest Tuesday night but showers in the area today were expected to be mostly confined to coastal and southeast Texas.

Damage to homes, businesses and automobiles in the Roswell flood—which followed a two-inch cloudburst—was estimated at about one million dollars. About 1,800 persons fled their homes but there were no deaths.

Catfish in the Parlor

At Lovington, two-thirds of all homes were damaged by flood waters and the desert flats were submerged for miles around the little oil town.

One housewife found a 10-inch catfish in her parlor.

Elsewhere in the nation, a squall center marched northward from Alabama to New York, bringing light rain with it. A high pressure center moving out of Canada promised to bring fair weather to the Midwest.

Mrs. Leonard Berkel Dies at Her Home South of Eldorado

Mrs. Josie Berkel, 62, wife of Leonard Berkel, died suddenly today at 12:45 a. m. at her home three miles south of Eldorado on Route 142. Death was due to a heart attack.

Besides her husband she leaves the following children: Francis, William and Teresa, all at home, Lawrence, Alton, Mrs. John Barnes, Eldorado, and Mrs. Claud Vaughn Jr., Harrisburg; brothers: W. M. Zimmer, Equality, Harvey Zimmer, Bunker Hill, Steve Zimmer, Alton, Albert Zimmer, Harrisburg; sisters, Mrs. Anna Hogan, Jacksonville, and Mrs. Mack Buchanan, Oakland, Calif., and two grandchildren.

The funeral will be Saturday at 9 a. m. at St. Joseph's Catholic church in Equality where she was a member. Burial will be in the church cemetery.

The body will be taken to the residence from the Eldorado funeral home late this afternoon.

Granted Divorce

Lessie Jones was granted a divorce from William Arthur Jones of West Frankfort Saturday by Judge Harry Flanders in Eldorado city court. Her former name, Lessie Fowler, was restored.

State to Begin Work on Toll Roads This Winter

CHICAGO (UP)—Gov. William G. Stratton announced today Illinois will begin work on a billion dollar toll road system this winter.

Stratton said at a luncheon in Chicago's Union League Club the system would cost approximately a million dollars a mile. He said the route would be revealed May 28 by the Illinois Toll Road Commission.

In a report on the state budget, the governor said Illinois remained within its budget of $1,500,000,000 this year. He said he would ask for an equal budget at the next meeting of the Legislature in January.

Stratton predicted the state could operate without an increase in taxes.

He said the increases in welfare and relief costs were made up by other programs including old age and aid to dependents. He added that state penal and mental institutions were operating on a better basis although they too were within the budget.

Stratton said he had authorized a pay raise for mental hospital attendants effective July 1.

Communists Promise to Free French Nurse, 'Angel of Dien Bien Phu'

HANOI (AP) — The Communist Viet Minh promised today to free captured nurse Genevieve de Gaulle Terraine, "the angel of Dien Bien Phu."

She was the only woman inside the isolated French fortress during its 56 days of bitter siege and its final fall to the Reds.

French sources here said Genevieve probably will be flown out of Dien Bien Phu on the French helicopter airlift to Luang Prabang and thence by hospital plane to Hanoi.

A rousing welcome for her was being prepared in Hanoi.

Tran Trong Khat, press spokesman for the Red Vietnamese delegation at Geneva, said Gen. Vo Nguyen Giap, conqueror of Dien Bien Phu, had decided to free his only woman prisoner.

Genevieve went to Indochina last fall after signing up as a French air force nurse.

Braved Red Gunfire

She made several trips into Dien Bien Phu in C47s and helicopters early in March to evacuate the wounded in complete disregard of enemy gunfire.

Genevieve's helicopter was put out of action by enemy artillery on March 27. From then on it was impossible for the nurse to leave the fortress area.

A special shelter was built for Genevieve near Brig. Gen. Christian de Castries' main command post. On the first night she found a camp bed neatly made up by Mohammed, de Castries' orderly, with silk sheets he had salvaged from parachutes.

Arrest Urbana Man on Housing Loan Racket

URBANA, Ill. (AP) — A Champaign County real estate executive was arrested by FBI agents today in the first break in a long simmering investigation of an alleged $500,000 housing loan racket.

Maurice S. "Morry" Bauman, 29, was arrested at his Urbana home on a charge of making entries of fraudulent loans totaling $32,000 in the books of the Rantoul First Savings and Loan Assn., Aug. 19, 1952, when he was president of the firm.

Asst. U. S. Atty. John Morton Jones said at East St. Louis that the arrest of Bauman is "the initial move toward a full-scale investigation by the federal grand jury" of alleged mortgage loan irregularities in this area.

There have been reports of federal agencies investigating phony loans in Champaign County for the past year. The state's attorney's office said the racket might have involved 200 transactions totaling as much as $500,000.

Bauman was taken before U. S. Commissioner Marie Burnett at Danville for arraignment. Bond was set at $20,000. He was being held at Danville while arranging to post bond, the FBI said.

Jones said the federal grand jury meeting in Danville next September will take up the investigation of alleged violations of federal savings and loan association laws.

Loans Guaranteed

The charge on which Bauman was arrested concerns violations of federal laws under which the Rantoul firm, organized in 1952, was operating. Bauman resigned his posts with the Rantoul Savings and Loan Assn. Jan. 10, 1953, and also liquidated the closed Williamsburg Mortgage Co. which he operated here.

Jones said the alleged fraudulent entries were part of a plan to cover up true valuations in securing mortgages and thereby "obtain mortgages not properly secured."

The racket under investigation by the Federal Housing Administration and the Veterans Administration also includes alleged mortgaging of property without consent or knowledge of owners and the endorsement of mortgage checks by persons other than the property owners.

Under federal savings and loan association laws, banks arrange home-buying and home-improvement loans at low interest rates with guarantees by the government. The 200 transactions under investigation are of this type.

Senate Approves Ban on Shipments Of Fireworks

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate has approved, 73 to 3, a bill to ban the shipment of fireworks into states which forbid their use. The measure now goes back to the House for action on amendments.

One such amendment, approved by the Senate, would make the bill effective July 1 of this year. That would appear to allow unrestricted shipments for this year's celebration of the Fourth of July.

The effective date proposal was proposed by Sen. Francis Case (R-S. D.) as a substitute for a Sept. 1 effective date advanced by Sen. Price Daniel (D-Tex.).

The bill would not bar shipments through any state. But it would levy a $1,000 fine, one year jail sentence, or both, on anyone who transports fireworks or delivers them for transport into a state knowing that they are to be used in violation of a state law.

Arms Shipped To Guatemala Are Skoda Made

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Alexander Wiley has urged the nations of the Western Hemisphere to confer immediately on the "ominous" threat posed by the shipment of Russian-controlled arms to Guatemala.

He charged in a speech Tuesday night that the shipment is new evidence "pointing to the fact that the international Communist conspiracy is intervening directly in the affairs of this hemisphere."

Wiley made the remarks before an Inter-American Bar Association dinner and, as he spoke, Alfredo Chocano, Guatemalan embassy counselor, stalked angrily from the room.

"I am not in agreement with what the senator said," he said crisply.

Skoda Made

Wiley (R-Wis.), chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, made the speech as American officials revealed they think the arms totaled 2,000 tons and were manufactured in the famous Skoda munitions works in Communist Czechoslovakia.

Sources in Mexico City quoted a recent arrival from Guatemala as saying the arms shipment included six or eight jet aircraft, possibly MIG-15s.

Some observers in Mexico City said that possibly the arms were destined for agitators in Honduras, Guatemala's neighbor to the east, currently suffering a nationwide strike of 40,000 banana workers.

Others suggested the military equipment was to be smuggled to Communists in British Honduras, which lies on the Caribbean coast north of Guatemala.

Mystery Blast In Yard of Labor Leader at Paducah

PADUCAH, Ky. (AP) — A mysterious explosion was set off early today in the front yard of labor leader Harold Watson, but Watson said he and his family escaped injury.

The explosion blew a hole in the front yard, damaged Watson's home and shattered glass in windows of nearby residences, police said.

Watson was a leader in a rebel faction of Local 181 of the operating engineers in a court fight recently to force the union to shift its headquarters from Evansville, Ind., to Paducah.

The engineers are employed on the Paducah atomic energy project. The rebel faction was known as the Operating Engineers of Kentucky for Local Autonomy.

ICC Refuses to Step in NYC Battle

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Interstate Commerce Commission today refused to step into the bitter proxy battle for control of the New York Central Railroad.

It denied the Central management's request for a declaratory order that financier Robert R. Young and his associates could not legally take over control of the great railroad without ICC sanction.

The commission said it "concluded that the interests of justice would not be advanced by the granting of said petitions."

The ICC gave no further reasons for its decision.

The petitions were filed last month by the railroad's present management and by Harold S. Vanderbilt as an individual stockholder.

County Legion Meeting Thursday

Members of American Legion posts throughout Saline county are urged to attend the County Council meeting at Eldorado Post 169 Thursday, May 20.

Meeting opens at 7:30 p. m. sharp, after which the council is sponsoring refreshments and a dance for Legion members and their ladies.

The council, which meets the third Thursday of each month at one of the four active posts in the county, has decided to sharpen interest in the county meetings with extra activity and hopes by so doing to draw bigger crowds and strengthen its organization.

Larry Peak, 6, is Injured When He Runs Into Side of Bus

Larry Peak, 6-year-old son of Mrs. Wanda Peak, was injured at 11:25 a. m. yesterday and was taken to the Lighter hospital, where he was still confined today.

City Policeman John Dunn's investigation showed that the lad ran into the side of a city bus at Longley and Feazel streets as the bus started to turn south onto Feazel. Bus driver was Carl Ewell.

Assistant Scoutmaster Drowns as Boat Upsets

LINCOLN, Ill. (AP) — The body of Fred Hild, 25, assistant Scoutmaster who drowned when a boat capsized Tuesday night, was recovered from Big Lake early today.

Hild and three 15-year-old Boy Scouts were riding in the small boat when it upset as one of the boys tried to turn it about. Two youths clung to the boat and the third swam to shore, but Hild disappeared from sight. Sheriff's deputies recovered the body.

In 1953, 77 U. S. bituminous coal producing companies each had an annual output in excess of one million tons.

Eisenhower Refuses To Rescind Order

of powers between the executive and legislative branches of the federal government.

Adams Needed Advice

Adams called for the Jan. 21 meeting, Mr. Eisenhower said, because the Army counsel felt he needed advice on what action he should take about producing records of the Army Loyalty Board and its members, in light of an executive order issued by former President Truman.

Before his conference Mr. Eisenhower apparently discussed the hearings informally with Sen. Charles E. Potter (R-Mich.), a member of the subcommittee, and

Mr. Eisenhower engaged in a few minutes of confidential talk at the White House during an interlude of picture-taking on the White House north portico with a group of members of Congress.

While the President's firm stand on the Army-McCarthy hearings was the principal subject of his weekly news conference, he also spoke out on several other major current issues:

SEGREGATION: He endorsed the view of South Carolina Gov. James F. Byrnes that Americans should be calm about the Supreme Court ruling outlawing segregation in public schools. He said he did not know whether the historic action will alienate some of the Southern support he received in the 1952 election.

GUATEMALA: He said it was disturbing to hear of arms shipments from the Soviet bloc to a Central American republic. He added that it would be a terrible thing to have a Communist dictatorship established in this hemisphere.

TVA: He said Gordon C. Clapp, whose term as TVA chairman expired Tuesday, was a fine administrator, but made clear he will not reappoint him. He said he will appoint a new TVA chairman as soon as he finds a man completely non-political in status, professionally well qualified, whose philosophy about public power is similar to the President's.

HOUSING: He was highly pleased to see that the Senate Banking Committee has voted to approve the administration-proposed public housing program and he hopes Congress will go along. The House had previously rejected the program.

Looking AT Sports

By BILL MELTON

John McDougal, a graduate of Salem high school and Evansville college, will be head basketball coach at Carmi high school next year. He has coached four years at Palestine high school, where his teams won 73 and lost 35 games.

Don Shroyer, who coached Carmi to an undefeated grid season in 1953, will continue as athletic director, head football and track coach.

SIU will be host to the Interstate Intercollegiate Athletic conference track, golf and tennis meet this week end, May 21 and 22, with Michigan Normal favored to take the track title, which it won last year. Members of the IIAAC are Michigan Normal, Central Michigan, Illinois Normal, Western Illinois, Northern Illinois, Eastern Illinois and Southern Illinois.

One Saline county school, Carrier Mills, is on the Attucks of Carbondale basketball schedule for next season. Attucks will play at CM Jan. 15, according to the Attucks schedule just recently released. For the past two seasons both Eldorado and Carrier Mills played Attucks on a one-game-a-season basis, but apparently the Eagles and Attucks couldn't agree on dates for another contract.

I Finally Give Up! A couple of years ago, when the future for my favorite big league ball club looked very bright, I put a sticker on the back window of the family car urging everyone to support the club. Sunday afternoon I scraped off this sticker, which said something like this "Let's All Follow The Browns." In case you've forgotten, the Browns were a baseball club that used to play in St. Louis.

Here are the answers to the baseball quiz appearing in this column yesterday.

ANSWERS: (1) Senators, Sievers, Busby and Vollmer, May 7, 1954. (2) Jim Rhodes, Giants, August 26, 1953. (3) Earl Averill, Indians, September 17, 1930. (4) Frank (Don) Hurst, Phillies, July 28 to August 2, 1929. (5) Frank Thomas, Pirates, hit 30. Del Ennis had 29, Ray Boone 26 and Mickey Mantle, 21.

Did you score over 25 points? Send your postcard to "Quiz Editor," The Sporting News, 2018 Washington Avenue, St. Louis 3, Mo.

Twenty ears were present for the stock car races at the Saline speedway last Saturday night. Cliff Roland of Mt. Vernon carried off the lion's share of honors with four firsts. Roland was first across the finish line in the first heat race, in the handicap, the semi-final and also the feature race.

Other first place finishers were Bob Cletcher, Harrisburg, in the time trials; E. Wheeler, 2nd heat race; Eddie Hancock, Harrisburg, third heat, and Glen Gibbs, Harrisburg, fourth heat.

Attention boys interested in Kiwanis baseball play! Boys are not expected to get a team sponsor, it has been announced by officials. Just organize your team, turn in the roster to Ronnie Doerge and forget it. League officials will see about the sponsorship.

Minoso Named in $250,000 Breach Of Promise Suit

CHICAGO (AP) — Orestes (Minnie) Minoso, Chicago White Sox baseball star named in a $250,000 breach of promise suit, today offered to submit to a blood test to prove he was not the father of a Chicago woman's infant daughter, according to a friend.

"If the blood test shows I'm the father, I will take care of the child, but if it shows I'm not the father, I'll file a terrific countersuit," he was quoted.

A blood test could establish that Minoso was not the child's father, or that it was possible that he was the father. However, it cannot prove paternity.

Miss Barbara Swader, 22, Tuesday filed a breach of promise suit against the Cuban athlete, leading batsman and White Sox leftfielder.

Minoso conferred with Frank Lane, White Sox general manager, before Tuesday night's game with the New York Yankees here. Before the meeting he said, "It's not true, none of it."

Miss Swader's suit said that Minoso is the father of her daughter, Lynette, born in 1953. She charged that he promised to marry her, then backed down on the excuse he had another girl friend in Cuba and two other children.

Miss Swader said she began dating Minoso in 1952 and, after he returned to Cuba at the end of the baseball season, she wrote him saying she was pregnant. The suit said that he asked the baby be named "Jeannette" after his mother.

The nation's 5 leading bituminous coal producing companies in 1953 each had an annual production of 9 million tons or more.

Didn't Want to Run, So Musial Hit Five Homers

By HARRY GRAYSON
NEA Sports Editor

NEW YORK (NEA) — Stanley Musial is as durable as he is devastating.

Stan the Man is perhaps baseball's foremost iron man since Lou Gehrig.

Little things like an inflamed appendix and tonsils and a twisted knee don't stop the greatest of the Cardinals.

Musial's appendix and tonsils kicked up right after his kickoff of 1947. Dr. Robert F. Hyland froze the appendix and the plucky Donora Dandy played 149 games at first base, batting .312, the poorest of his illustrious National League career. The grind concluded, he visited a hospital for the double-header that brought him back as good as new — an appendectomy and a tonsillectomy.

In 1950, Musial broke from the barrier as rapidly as he has this spring, but in late May badly wrenched his right knee slipping and falling when he stepped in loose dirt rounding first base at Pittsburgh's Forbes Field. He played the rest of the way with the knee in an elastic ribbed brace. That didn't stop him from leading the league for the fourth time batting .346. The knee hasn't been just right ever since.

MARTY MARION had difficulty fielding a team when the Cardinals were hit by an influenza epidemic early in the campaign of 1951. Musial was one of the sickest, yet the record shows that he got in 152 games and batted .355 to show the way for the fifth time. Stan the Man was so ill in Cincinnati that he was suited up only to frighten the Reds. He was sitting out for one of the mighty few times in his life. Late in the game, Manager Marion asked him if he could possibly pinch hit. White as a sheet and on shaky legs, he hit the ball into the right field stands to win the game.

One Charley horse begets another, so Musial was on two flat wheels at Sportsman's Park, May 2, when he became the first player in history to hit five home runs in a double-header. That also set a new record for total bases in a twin bill, 21. Musial didn't want to run, so he hit the ball out of the park.

Suspend Arcaro; Boland Named to Ride Goyamo

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP) — Texas-born Bill Boland, who made some racing history in 1950 when he won the Kentucky Derby, was named today to replace the great Eddie Arcaro aboard Goyamo in this Saturday's $100,000 Preakness at Pimlico.

Arcaro, four-time Preakness winner and the nation's top stakes jockey for the last four straight years, was scratched as Goyamo's rider Tuesday when he was suspended for 10 days for a "careless ride" at Belmont Park.

Arcaro was set down for his work aboard the aptly-named Dead Duck in Monday's seventh race at the New York oval, and racing steward Joseph Flanagan of Pimlico confirmed that the New York suspension would be honored in Maryland. Eddie had ridden in seven straight Preaknesses.

Thus does the 22-year old Boland get a chance to ride a strong horse in what is shaping up as a field of between 7 and 10 starters for the mile-and-three-sixteenths classic.

Boland, whose selection was announced Tuesday night by W. C. Stephens, trainer of Goyamo, surprised the turf world as an 18-year old when he steered Middleground to victory in the Derby. He was only the second apprentice jockey in history to win the run for the roses. Since then he has proved his ability as a blue-ribbon rider, last year ranking No. 8 among the stakes riders.

MUSIAL THRIVES ON bad physical breaks. Indeed, it was severe injury that put him on the track of his six batting championships. He was a pitcher playing the outfield when he fell and hurt his throwing shoulder attempting a shoestring catch for the Daytona Beach club of the Florida State League in 1940.

Ask him where he got his individualistic swing—like a thief in a crouch looking over his shoulder for a cop—and he can't tell you.

"I couldn't pitch in the spring of 1941," he recalls. "I had a wife and baby, so I just had to hit."

As hard as he has played, Musial in eight seasons did not miss a game. He was out of eight games in two campaigns, three in another. The fewest he played was 140 and that in his freshman year, when Billy Southworth made the mistake of alternating him somewhat in the early going with Coaker Triplett.

Habitually a late starter, Stanley Musial got out of the gate rapidly this season, and is taking dead aim at 400.

Don't bet he won't make it. He has the kick of Native Dancer in the stretch.

Rosen Hits Two Homers As Indians Win; Cardinals In Virtual Tie for First

By CARL LUNDQUIST
United Press Sports Writer

There was a new warning signal for pitchers in the American league today—"Rosen is rising."

Sluggish Al of the Indians, last year's "Most Valuable Player," in fact was ahead of his 1953 pace in all departments. He has eight home runs to lead the league, his 36 runs batted in also top the circuit, and he is second only to teammate Bobby Avila in batting with a lousy .374. Avila has 379.

Rosen, who even was "promoted" two notches in the field from third base to first this year, outshone the mighty Ted Williams in a 6-3 victory for the first place Indians over the Red Sox, their sixth in a row. Rosen crashed two homers, driving in three runs. Williams got a single and drove in a run. Cleveland came from behind with two runs in the sixth to go in front for good, Rosen tying the score with his second homer after which a walk to Larry Doby, an infield out, and George Strickland's single produced another run. Reliever Bob Chakales pitched 5 2/3 scoreless innings for his second victory.

Gromek Wins 7th Game

After Gene Woodling's two-run homer in the eighth tied the score, Yogi Berra drove in the winning run with a single in the ninth as the second place Yankees kept pace with a 4-3 victory at Chicago. Steven Gromek became the first major leaguer to win seven games, pitching the Tigers to a six-hit 8-3 victory over Philadelphia while Washington downed Baltimore 3-1 on Mickey McDermott's five hitter.

In the National league, only two games separated seventh-place Chicago from the deadlocked leaders, Brooklyn and Philadelphia, both defeated Tuesday night.

The Cubs pounded out 13 hits to beat Brooklyn, 7-1, on Warren Hacker's four-hitter while Johnny Logan's two-run triple in a four-run sixth produced the winning tally in a 6-2 Milwaukee victory over Philly. The Cardinals moved into a virtual first place tie on Gerry Staley's seven-hit 9-3 victory over the Giants, while Cincinnati hung in close with a 6-5 win over Pittsburgh achieved on Gus Bell's two-run triple.

Bob Turley Loses

Relief pitcher Johnny Sain, who hasn't yielded a run this year, pitched two scoreless innings in the Yankee triumph. Ferris Fain hit a homer for Chicago. Walks to Willie Miranda and Irv Noren preceded Berra's winning hit.

Gromek, who now has defeated every club but the Yankees, handed the A's their 11th defeat in 12 games, striking out seven. Frank Bolling hit a two-run Detroit homer as the Tigers made 14 hits. Roy Boone collected three.

Mickey Vernon hit a two-run triple to provide Mickey McDermott with his victory margin off Bob Turley, the Baltimore Bullet, who struck out six in defeat. McDermott was touched for five singles and also struck out six.

Hacker gave up no walks and put only five runners on base in his win at Brooklyn. Chicago sewed it up with five hits good for four runs off Billy Loes in the first inning. Hank Sauer had the big blow, a two-run single.

Schoendienst Homers

Gran Hammer, in defeat, got three hits to take over the National league batting lead at .378 as Chet Nichols won his third game for Milwaukee after losing three in a row.

Presbyterian Woman's Guild Holds May Meeting in Church

The Woman's Guild of the Presbyterian church held its May meeting in the lower rooms of the church.

The meeting opened with the devotion and year book of prayer by Mrs. L. E. McCormick. The group sang "Praise the Lord" with Mrs. Hudson Mudge at the piano.

Books and program material to be put in the guild library were given to the guild by Mrs. Clyde Pittman.

Mrs. G. C. Benson gave the program for the afternoon on the topic, "Christ Calls Us to Witness as a Presbyterian Family all over the World," an informative lesson on church government.

The Nella Gregg circle presented the guild with four aluminum pitchers and a large cooking utensil.

The Carrie Wilson circle was hostess for the afternoon.

Shorter Trains News in Bridal Gowns

For the formal, picture bride this season, there's the small-waisted, wide-skirted dress in white Chantilly lace (left) made over pink acetate taffeta slip. Beaded skirt is cut from galleons of lace separated at the sides to show petticoat of gathered nylon tulle.

The informal bride (right) can look pretty as a picture in a short dress of aqua lace with bodice cut slightly off-shoulder. Skirt is a handkerchief square with a deep, shirred-on flounce of nylon net. Aqua taffeta slip widens out skirt.

Beta Kappa Chapter Holds Mother's Day Banquet

Beta Kappa chapter of Beta Sigma Phi held its annual Mothers Day program last Monday evening, May 17, by giving a buffet supper in the club room of the public library.

Each mother or guest was presented with a carnation corsage: Mrs. Sybil Mitchell, Mrs. Isaac Caldwell, Carbondale; Mrs. Cecil Neely, Carterville; Mrs. Fred M. Burns, Mrs. H. N. Jarvis, Mrs. James L. Byrd, Mrs. D. L. Reader, Herrin, Mrs. Lena Yarbrough, Mrs. Jessie Grisham, Mrs. Gladys Ewell, Mrs. Letha Cozart, Mrs. Cozie Gaskins, Mrs. Otto Barnett, Mrs. Luther Armistead, Mrs. Mary Moore, Mrs. Madeline Little, Hobbs, New Mexico, Mrs. Teresa James and Mrs. John VanTrease, Eldorado.

Mrs. VanTrease presented the program on "Flower Arrangement" giving some "do's" and "don'ts" of good flower arranging and making flower arrangements. She also explained that the arrangement of flowers should depend upon the type of furniture, modern or period.

It was announced that there would be a Beta Sigma Phi picnic at Karel park on July 12 at 6:30 p. m. Members of the Beta Kappa chapter and the two exemplar chapters will be present.

Carolyn Anderson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Silas N. Anderson, 311 West South, has been elected treasurer of the Illinois College Association of Women for the coming year at Illinois College at Jacksonville. She will be a sophomore next fall.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Stunson and children, Debra and David, have returned to Van Nuys, Calif., after spending part of their vacation with his mother, Mrs. Emma Stunson, and his brother, John Stunson and family.

Mrs. Mary Shelby returned home last night from the Harrisburg hospital where she had been a patient for nine days.

Ruth Gray Class Holds Potluck Supper

The Ruth Gray Sunday school class of the First Christian church held its regular monthly meeting with a potluck supper in fellowship hall Tuesday evening with Mrs. Frank Patterson and Mrs. Bernice McMahan as hostesses.

Following the devotion given by Mrs. Clarence Aldridge, the president, Mrs. Bernice McMahan, presided over a short business meeting at which time the class voted to give the proceeds from the George Washington tea held in February to the church building fund. The class has just finished redecorating the beginners' class room and having the floor tiled which was done by members meeting at the church and working in the evenings. The Nursery was redecorated by the class about six months ago.

The June meeting will be a fish fry at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer McDowell, Dorris Heights, with Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Aldridge as co-hostesses.

The following members were present: Mr. and Mrs. Elmer McDowell, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Boatright, Mr. and Mrs. Glen Daugherty and Glen Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Aldridge, Mr. and Mrs. Alonzo Shewmake Jr. and Kenny, Mr. and Mrs. Don Moore, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Boyd and Jerry, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. Vance Brackney, Mrs. Cecil Harris, Sharon and Susie, Mrs. Bill Sloan and the hostess.

Miss Myrna Gail Seats Honored With Kitchen Shower

Mrs. Denzil Simpson entertained with a kitchen shower Tuesday evening at her home, 720a South Ledford street, in honor of Miss Myrna Gail Seats.

Miss Seats will be married to Thomas W. Fife Friday evening at the McKinley Avenue Baptist church.

Mrs. Kenneth Ozment was winner of a door prize at the shower, which was attended by several of the bride's close friends.

Gifts and best wishes were received from the following, to whom refreshments were served by the hostess:

Mrs. Doyle Hedger, Miss Jewell Agin, Mrs. Harry Jones and son, Miss Norma Cannon, Mrs. Grover Dale Fulkerson, Mrs. Ozment and Miss Jane Cannon.

Prepare Trotters on Dr. Kane Farm for Harness Tracks

THE KANE STABLES, located in the northwest corner of Saline county, is a busy place, especially in the spring of the year. It is the home and birthplace of some of the country's better trotters. Here are a few pictures snapped about the Kane horse range, where more than 150 head now graze. UPPER LEFT—Fuzzy Direct Guy is the top runner in the Kane stable now. The 3-year-old, sired by Tactful Guy, will be running in the Grand Circuit this year. Fuzzy's best time to date is 2:06. UPPER CENTER—Trainer Jake Foster gives Graphophone a workout on the Kane track. Graphophone was eligible for the Hambletonian a few years back and was considered among the favorites. A hoof injury, however, put a temporary crimp in his career. His hoof is healed now, and although several years old, he is expected to make something of a comeback on the tracks this summer. UPPER RIGHT—Following the death of Tactful Guy, Dr. Kane searched diligently for another top-notch stud. He found one in Long Key, pictured here. MIDDLE—A common scene in the spring at the Kane farm is young colts with their mothers. Most of these were sired by Long Key. LOWER LEFT—Some of the men and boys who work at the farm pose for a picture. Trainer Foster is on the back row to the far left and farm supervisor Lee Williams is on the back row, far right. LOWER RIGHT—After a workout on the track, horses are cooled off slowly with walking exercises on the turnstile.

Trotters from Dr. Clyde Kane Stables Entered in Louisville Racing Program

Harness Racing Royalty Well Represented at Farm Near Hamburg, Equipped with 5-8 Mile Track

A dozen trotting horses from the Kane stables at Hamburg, in the northwest part of Saline county, are slated to race on the Louisville (Ky.) track during the summer racing program there.

Jake Foster, training superintendent at the Kane farm and his son and chief assistant, Jerry Foster, will leave Thursday with 14 horses, owned by Dr. Clyde E. Kane, who is a brother of W. C.

J. L. McDowell to Graduate Friday from Chiropractic College

J. L. McDowell

J. L. McDowell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charley McDowell of Harrisburg, will graduate Friday night from the Missouri Chiropractic college in St. Louis. Graduation exercises will be held at the DeSoto hotel.

He is a War II veteran and a former player with the American Legion baseball team here. He graduated from the ETHS and is married to the former Mary Edith Graham of Liberty. They are at present making their home in St. Louis while he is attending school, but their future location is undecided.

J. L. is valedictorian of his graduation class at the Missouri Chiropractic college.

W. C. T. U. CONTEST WINNERS recognized at HTHS Honor Day. They are Kenneth Berry, first in play contest, Barbara Gibbons (center), first in essay, and Maudene Cook, third in essay.

Kane, well-known retired lawyer of Harrisburg.

In the string, ranging in age from 3 to 8 years old, are Fuzzy Direct Guy, Nancy Berry Guy, Money Kay Guy, Penny Widower, Penny Guy, Cash Kay Guy, Nancy Harvester Guy, Mr. Harvester Guy, Miss Forbes Guy, Miss Dean Guy, Gano's Guy, Hopeful Hanover, Graphophone and Medley G. Direct.

Royalty in the harness racing world is well represented in these horses, which are entered in the Grand Circuit and are part of the 150 head of racing stock at the Kane farm. Tactful Guy and Long Key are the sires of the majority, therefore the "keys" and the "guys" on the names of the racers.

Hardy Hanover, sold last year for $50,000 to E. J. Baker, St. Charles, is a half brother of Hopeful Hanover in the string going to Louisville.

Nancy Harvester Guy, was sired by Harvester, the world's champion sire of trotting horses, and her mother was out of Tactful Guy.

Graphophone, owned by Dr. Kane and Jake Foster, training suplt., was sired by Phonograph, who holds the world record as a trotting horse, 1:59.05. This horse is also a half brother of "Sharp Note," 3 year old winner of more money than any other horse in any one year.

Other tracks on which they will race are Lexington, Ky., Sedalia, Mo., Indianapolis, Ind., Springfield, Ill., and Du Quoin.

Harvester Guy, sired by Tactful Guy, is entered in the Illinois Colt stake, which runs above the $50,000 purse.

Compared individually with other Illinois top ranking stallions from records available in January this year, Long Key had more starters that won more races, won more money and averaged more winning races than any other stallion.

Long Key has had more new record trotters, more new record performers (both trotters and pacers). Long Key has 15 new record trotters, which is one more than Volomite. His closest Illinois competitor had three. He had 13 reduced record trotters, his nearest competitor having three. Long Key had 28 new reduced record trotters. His closest competitor had 5.

Long Key is the only sire of a 2-minute trotter. Katie Key, 1953 champion, made the mile in 1:59.05 which is four seconds under the fastest record set previously in 1924.

Katie Key and Torch Key were the top champions of 1953. Torch Key setting the 1953 record in the half mile race, time 2:04.3-5. Torch Key was also sired by Long Key of the Kane farm. These are world records, according to the advertising of the Kane farm in racing magazines.

From 135 to 150 horses are at the Kane farm. Sixty famous brood mares range the pasture land on the 600 acre farm, all of which is in Saline county excepting 40 acres in Hamilton county. There are eleven young colts on the farm at present.

Mary Alleton, big money pacer, Miss Dean Guy, sired by Dean Hanover, with a dam out of Tactful Guy, Peerless Princess, full sister of Volomite, greatest sire of all time, are among the famous broodmares.

The farm is supervised by Lee Williams and Frank Adams. The latter is acting in an advisory capacity to Lee Williams at present, due to illness, but he was for 12 years the chief supervisor of the farm.

The farm is equipped with a five-eighths mile track. Seeing the horses being worked out there each day is quite an attraction. After their track performance, they are "cooled off" by being walked around a small turnstile and given large quantities of water at regular intervals.

Fourteen men are employed at the farm. Half grown sons of the older men are enthusiastic ranch hands. They dress the part and take a delight in walking the beautiful horses, which are tethered to poles in a merry-go-round fashion.

Wells on the farm furnish water for the stock. The boys pump and draw it by roped buckets.

Mr. Foster and his son take the horses out to the track by pairs, work them out and return them to the turnstile.

Getting ready for the trip to Louisville was quite a job. A veterinarian came to examine the horses. A blacksmith, Curtis Carr, West Frankfort, Rt. 2, who has a portable shop and travels by truck, came to examine their feet and shoe any that needed attention.

He did not have to use his portable equipment at the Kane farm which is equipped with a forge and other blacksmithing equipment.

The gear boxes had to be freshly painted with the Kane colors, blue and orange, and a good deal of spit and polish went into shining up the sulkeys and the harness.

All the while, the usual feeding, watering, currying, etc., was going on. Pictures were being snapped of the fast trotters, the roundup of young colts and their mamas and dozens of other routine activities were taking place, under the watchful eyes of Mr. Williams, Mr. Foster and Mr. Adams.

Dr. Kane arrived from St. Louis Sunday to check over the final arrangements for the Louisville races. His arrival was shortly after a visit to the farm by Clyde Hargrave, Aurora tavern owner, to shop for a race horse. Hargrave is a namesake of Dr. Kane, and a former pupil, when the doctor was teaching school in Hamilton county before he became a doctor.

Dr. Kane, like his brother, W. C. Kane, Harrisburg, has never relinquished his love for the country. His stock farm is the old homestead on which they were both born and reared. He and his wife spend many week ends at Hamburg, and are frequently the dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Adams, who are supervisor and bookkeeper at the farm and have served them so well and faithfully for many years.

Illinois Site Has Good Chance For AF Academy

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. — (Special) — An Illinois site for a U. S. Air Force Academy similar to the Navy Annapolis and the Army West Point Academies is reported here to have a good chance of being the final selection. It is said to be among the final three or four under consideration.

The site is said to be favored in this state is the Piassa Chautauqua-Elsah area which is the city of Alton's nomination and which was visited on April 16 by the Selection Board named by President Eisenhower. The two or three others under consideration were not identified.

To give impetus and perhaps swing a favorable decision for the Illinois site, Gov. William G. Stratton has wired Secretary of the Air Force, Harold G. Trost, in the Department of Defense, Washington, D. C., calling attention to his approval last week of a $3,500,000 plan for road improvements near the proposed site.

Governor Stratton and Illinois U. S. Sen. Everett M. Dirksen, Pekin, are understood to have held an important telephone conversation last Friday on the possibility of getting the academy for the Alton site and both agreed that the road improvement might be an important factor and the telegram was sent.

The program calls for acquiring to take over and complete the McAdams Memorial highway, named for a former executive of the Alton Evening Telegraph. Last Thursday Stratton accepted for the state an abandoned 14 1/2 mile railroad right of way to be used to complete the highway.

He then outlined a three year program starting with this year. The program calls for acquiring right of way and completion of engineering specifications in 1954; construction of bridges and under water work in 1955; and surfacing of a two lane extension of the highway from its point of terminus north of Clifton Terrace to Grafton in 1956.

The site selection board's visit here last month was enlivened by the presence of Brig. Gen. Charles A. Lindberg, the New York to Paris flier, and a board member. Because of the shortage of time a scheduled visit to the McAdams

Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Smith-peters had a Sunday dinner guests Mr. and Mrs. Mike Smithpeters and daughter, Mrs. Dale Hart, and grandchildren, Kenny, David and Nancy Jane Smithpeters. Mr. and Mrs. Wilton Smithpeters and son, Miky, Mr. and Mrs. Andy Myers, of McLeansboro; Mr. and Mrs. George Smithpeters, Lockport; Mrs. Lura Morris and daughter of Shawneetown, and Marshall W. Smithpeters of Champaign.

Mr. and Mrs. John Robinson of Knoxville spent the weekend with relatives. On Saturday they visited Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Penfold and on Sunday with the John C. Small family.

Word has been received from Mrs. Eva Childers of the birth of a grandson, William Bradley, born April 19 in Wichita, Kan., to Mr. and Mrs. Bill Kemper. Mrs. Kemper is the former Mary Lou Childers.

Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Edwards, Sullivan, Ind., and Mr. and Mrs. Tom Mann of Merom, Ind., visited Sunday with their sister, Mrs. Myrtle Riegel, and attended the centennial celebration at the Banks-ton church.

Rev. Irvin Braden conducted a devotional service at Galatia Rest Home for the aged Sunday afternoon. The John R. Pemberton family furnished music.

Rev. and Mrs. Irvin Braden will attend the annual Methodist conference at Vandalia Wednesday. The conference will continue thru Sunday. Noble Woolard is the delegate to represent the Mt. Moriah-Lone Oak charge, and John C. Small is alternate. Other members plan to attend.

The Galatia Home Bureau unit was entertained recently by Mrs. Kenneth Allen. Roll call was answered by "My Favorite Flower." Mrs. Herbert Bond and Mrs. John Hill demonstrated yeast bread variations with a Swedish ring and loaf which were served with coffee by the hostess during a social hour.

Mrs. E. M. Cardwell received a prize for a contest conducted by Mrs. Joe Hatcher.

Plans were made to attend the play-day at Karel park Thursday, and announcement was made of the June meeting at the home of Mrs. Hill.

Dunbar, Lakeview Graduation Exercises May 25

Next Tuesday, May 25, Dunbar and Lakeview grade schools will hold combined commencement exercises at the Galilean Baptist church, Carrier Mills, starting at 8 p. m.

There are eight pupils in the graduating class, four from each school.

Dunbar is a part of the Carrier Mills grade school system and Lakeview is a rural school near Carrier Mills.

The program will open with a song by the primary pupils and invocation by Rev. Wendell M. Johnson, pastor of the Carrier Mills A. M. E. church. Also on the program will be other musical numbers, five plays and readings. Rev. W. A. Robinson, pastor of the host church will give the benediction.

William Archie Jones and Daisy Sykes are instructors at Dunbar and John L. Taborn is the Lakeview instructor.

Ryolla Evans is valedictorian at Dunbar and Lenora Chavis is salutatorian and the other two members of the class are Coleen Taylor and Vernon Rollins.

Lakeview's valedictorian is Doyle Taborn and Ruth Ann Cole the salutatorian with Ramona Taborn and Jackie Keen the other class members.

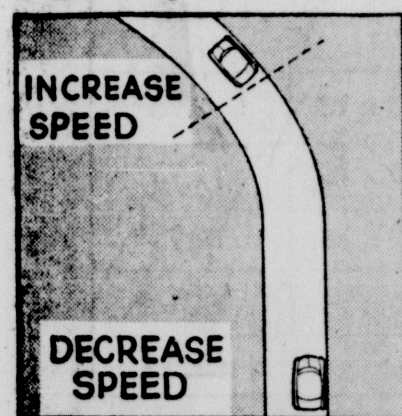

Tips on Traffic Safety

By
CHARLES F. CARPENTIER
Secretary of State

Slow down before you reach a curve on the highway. Don't wait until you are actually in the curve to begin decreasing your speed.

Then, when you have reached the center of the curve, begin to gather speed. When your car is gaining speed, it is also gaining traction. That added traction helps in overcoming centrifugal force—the force which tends to make your car continue travelling in a straight line.

When your car is losing speed it is also losing traction, and the centrifugal force caused by rounding the curve has a greater effect. If it becomes strong enough it can cause your car to overturn.

So slow down before the curve, gather speed in the last half of the curve. You will have better control over your car and the chances of overturning will be less. But SLOW DOWN FIRST.

A copy of the completely new "Rules of the Road" booklet will be sent to you free upon request. Write to CHARLES F. CARPENTIER, Secretary of State, Springfield, Illinois.

The WASHINGTON
MERRY-GO-ROUND
BY DREW PEARSON

DREW PEARSON SAYS:
Pentagon Prepares Budget For Indo-China War; South American Jungles Are More Vital Than Asiatic Jungles; Ike Now
Has Secretary To Correlate Cabinet.

WASHINGTON. — The Defense Department is drawing up a budget for war in Indo-China. . . . Pen-ta-gon planners privately figure that the "new look" is now a mere peak through the keyhole. The military budget will be upped at least $5-000,000,000 regardless of war in Indo-China. . . . Senator Knowland, the GOP majority leader, has given the White House a green light on congressional cooperation for Indochina "eventualities." Republicans are confident the Democrats will go along. . . . If war does come it will be a nasty engagement in a jungled "green hell"
where American troops are not used to fighting. . . . against men who can disappear into the jungle nowhere. . . . against people who have learned through the years to hate the so-called white conqueror.
These jungles produce tropical products necessary to modern civilization. However, similar jungles much nearer home and controlled by friendlier peoples can produce the same products. . . . So this might be a good time to go back to cultivating our friends in Brazil, Ecuador, Colombia and their tropical products rather than getting bogged down in the jungles of southeast Asia. . . . It's a vitally important crossroad and should be pondered carefully.

the Mayflower, Margaret found herself one block away from Mr.
and Mrs. T. She howled to reservation manager Truman and he finally changed her room. . . .
It hasn't been announced, but Eisenhower now has a special cabinet secretary with duties somewhat like those of the secretary of the British cabinet. He is Max
Rabb, assistant to Sherman
Adams, and his job is to correlate
cabinet information and ride herd
on cabinet officers. . . . The job
was set up when Ike got unhappy over conflicting statements by Charlie Wilson and Dulles over

Indo-China, crossed wires by Secretary of Commerce Weeks and Secretary of Labor Mitchell. Such conflicts have been a headache for every recent President. FDR used to take Harry Hopkins and Harold Ickes on his yacht to iron out their battles. Truman used to assume the faux pas of his own wayward cabinetiers. . . . Ike, who likes a smooth-running general staff, doesn't relish differences in his cabinet, so the new secretary of the cabinet has the job of ironing them out. . . . In England, the cabinet secretary is one of the most important men in the government, gets a salary as high as any cabinet member.

DIRKSEN'S STAR

Watch for Ev Dirksen, the soft-spoken solon from Illinois, to emerge as rival to Bill Knowland as Republican leader of the Senate. With the ailing Colonel Mc-Cormick becoming less and less a factor in Illinois politics, Dirksen is shifting away from McCormick isolation, and would like to snuggle closer to Eisenhower. . . . He considered trying to shush up the Army-McCarthy row after Eisenhower himself failed in getting Army Secretary Stevens to compromise. . . . Stevens got brain-washed once by the four Republican horsemen of the McCarthy committee and isn't going to get caught in one of their compromises again. . . . On the day Stevens lunched with the four Senate horsemen and agreed temporarily to compromise the Army's position, Judge Albert Cohn, father of the precocious boy, told friends:
"It's all going to be over by noon.
Stevens is going to be rolled at lunchtime and the whole investigation will be dropped." . . . Stevens was rolled, and did agree to the McCarthy position—that one time. But never again.

WILL JOE BE BENCHED?

Many Democrats and labor leaders have been sitting on the Wisconsin sidelines in the Joe-must-go battle. Farmers and rural Republicans have rolled up most of the signatures in the McCarthy recall petition, with little help because the Democrats consider Mc-Carthy a Republican problem. Or Adams, and his job is to correlate
cabinet information and ride herd
on cabinet officers. . . . The job
was set up when Ike got unhappy

TURN OFF YOUR FURNACE—Mrs. Loretta Harper says winter is finally over when the blackberry petals fall. She is holding a bunch of blackberry branches in her arms. (Alta Porter Photo)

Blackberry Winter is Over, Coal Saleswoman Mrs. Loretta Harper Says

By Alta Porter

Winter's "last stand" has been made.
No more coal bills this spring!
Who said that? Mrs. Loretta Harper of the City Coal Yard. Now Mrs. Harper is erecting a new building which the City Coal Yard will occupy in about six weeks and she is not cancelling any unpaid bills for coal. What she means is that there will be no more weather cold enough for furnace fires. Yep, that's her prediction.

How does she know? She is a weather prophet and her chart is not the winds, moon, stars, tides or clouds. She goes by a certain flower in determining when the weather is too warm for continued furnace fires. When the little white petals fall off the blackberry bushes cold weather is definitely over, according to Mrs. Harper and in a few more days the last petal will have dropped.

On that date she turns off her furnace and tells her son, Robert Favreau, and the fellows who work with him in cleaning furnaces, to get the big truck-transported furnace cleaning vacuum going. This equipment draws out and loads into a truck by vacuum suction all of the winter's accumulation of fly ash, soot and ashes, after which a coat of paint is slapped on the fire door and it is shut for the summer.

Whether her prediction proves to McCarthy fight are convinced they are being shadowed and that their phones are tapped by the other side. . . . (they both may be right.)

Latest story in Capitol corridors is about a man named Reilly who joined the Army so he could
"live the life of Schine!"

Your Skin is Telling
About Your Age

Premature crow's-feet at the corners of your eyes are often caused by skin dryness. Skin dryness is caused by your skin's inability to make enough lubricating cholesterol and esters.
Penetrating Lanolin Plus Liquid used nightly as a cleanser—then a few extra

Inoculation Helps Cities Curb Rabies

CHICAGO — The danger of rabies can be met only by rigid enforcement of dog control laws,
according to the American Municipal Association.

The association said it drew this conclusion from the replies of nine large cities which were asked how they deal with the problem.

New Orleans, La., and Washington, D. C., require that all dogs be inoculated. They said the mandatory measure has all but eliminated cases of rabies in human beings, and has greatly reduced its occurrence in animals.

In Washington, the city pays for rabies shots, at an annual cost of about $12,000 for 20,000 dogs. Veterinarians give the shots in mass sessions and get $12 an hour for their services. The serum costs about 35 cents a unit.

In New Orleans, which has about 40,000 licensed dogs, the inocula-tions must be paid for by dog owners.

In both cities, pet owners are issued certificates of inoculation,

and the dogs are given tags to wear.

Among other cities questioned,
Baltimore, Buffalo, Cincinnati,
Cleveland, Milwaukee and Pittsburgh require dogs to be leashed
but do not require inoculations.

George Washington's cabinet was composed of secretaries of State, Treasury and War.

Saint of the Khyber--He Teaches Where Literacy Was Rarity 3 Years Ago

By MARY FRAZER
NEA Special Correspondent
PESHAWAR, Pakistan—(NEA)—I have met a saint in the land of the Khyber.

He is tall and strong, as one must be to live among these people, where from the age of five every man is a soldier. His head is balding, but his gray-black beard is a fine one. And you know from the wise, wonderful glow in his dark eyes that whatever his years, he is ageless in heart.

His name, the painstakingly typed-out slip tells me, is Nisarul Haque Qureshi. After his name he has put the degrees B.A., B.T., Dr. Ph. E. And although he is a very humble man, I know he put them there with immense pride.

For Nisarul Haque Qureshi is a scholar in a part of Pakistan where until three years ago, literacy was a thing scarcely known.

As headmaster of a fledgling school at Landikotal, in the Khyber, he is teaching 500 earnest little boys and young men a variety of subjects: The Three R's in Urdu, English and Persian; "General Knowledge"; sciences; physical education and hygiene, and a great number of other serious subjects.

All of his 20 teachers, young men who instruct for $14 to $20 to $30 a month, look for all the world like the shepherds of old. Most wear loose, pajama-like trousers, some draped, some straight, with hand-woven robes of tablecloth proportions draped over their shoulders. Some have shaved heads, some long hair, a few had turbans.

At the school, as we performed our ablutions, we studied the fascinating mottoes painted on the white-washed walls, all, so obviously, inspired by a careful study of American copy-books.

"Cleanliness is indeed Godliness," "Handsome is as handsome does," and "Bravo Bravo Bravo for He Who Tries."

In the dining hall, there were photos of Boy Scouts at a world jamboree; United Nations Day posters, maps and calendars, pictures of the Governor General and Prime Minister, with political proclamations in Urdu scripts beneath.

An aged servant, wearing a turban and a brown robe and with most of his stern face covered by a curly beard, entered with tea and cakes. Across his robe was slung a huge version of one of the hand-made Khyber rifles, and a cartridge belt encircled his waist. The gun bumped against us as he poured our tea and waved a fan to chase away the flies.

"We in this part of the world are offended if you do not eat heartily with us," said our host.

"Now we shall visit in the classrooms. You must understand that I have tried to do with very little, and that, in this tribal area, the very idea of a school was strange and new and something to arouse their suspicions, when I came here from Peshawar three years ago. Peshawar is but 45 miles away, but it is another land," the headmaster said.

"We will go first to a theology class." The theologians were boys of five and six years.

"This is the best prayer rug we can afford," said Nisarul Haque Qureshi, indicating the fresh, clean straw on the cement floor. The lads, all dressed in long cotton trousers with knee-length tunics, and a variety of skull caps, some drab, some vividly embroidered, instantly arose and greeted us in their Pushto dialect.

"They are studying the Holy Koran. Boys, for our American visitors, please to begin," said the headmaster.

A little boy with enormous black eyes led his classmates in a chant. Their staves changed to a look of piety, with only here and there a mischievous grin.

"They are praising God," said the headmaster. "This is one of our large classes, for they all come from families who have been pious for many centuries."

In the mathematics class, the boys were seated on each side of the room on straw matting. Their meager school equipment was by their crossed knees, tied in time-stained kerchiefs. They arose at once, and carefully noting the word

Geese in Demand For Weeding Crops

NORWALK, O. — (AP) — Wayne Alleshouse, operator of the Norwalk Hatchery, which specializes in geese, reports a rising demand for the honkers — and not for the dinner table either.

Last year some 65,000 goslings were shipped, mostly to cotton planters, peanut producers and others who use geese to weed crops.

"We call them weeders," he said, "but they could be called grassers because they eat grasses that cause trouble in a cotton or peanut field."

Savings of from $15 to $25 an acre have been realized by putting from one to three geese on an acre of plantation to keep down the grasses, Alleshouse added.

The geese, a strain of White Emmer, are shipped from Alleshouse's hatchery mainly to Mississippi, eastern Arkansas, Louisiana and Missouri.

The value of the geese as weeders is highest where insecticides are not needed for bugs, such as the boll weevil. Insecticides and geese won't mix.

Last year, a nursery in Ohio bought some geese to whittle down the grass among young shrubs and flowers with successful results, he said. Geese also have been tried in strawberry patches, but Alleshouse warned in this connection that they should be used before the crop ripens. The geese is thorough and has a big appetite and ripe strawberries wouldn't survive a goose patrol.

"WEL COME" chalked on the blackboard, repeated it in piping voices.

There was a military greeting in the English classes, as they arose and a boy snapped "Ten-Shun!" And a little demonstration when a student went to the blackboard and led the 35 through "A . . . B . . . C . . . D . . . E . . . F" drill three times, precision perfect.

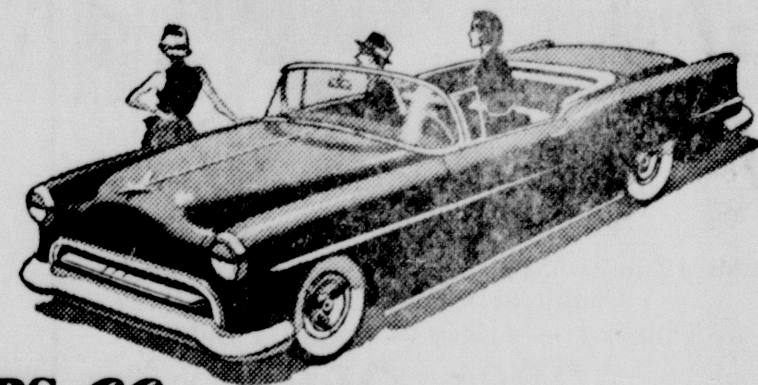

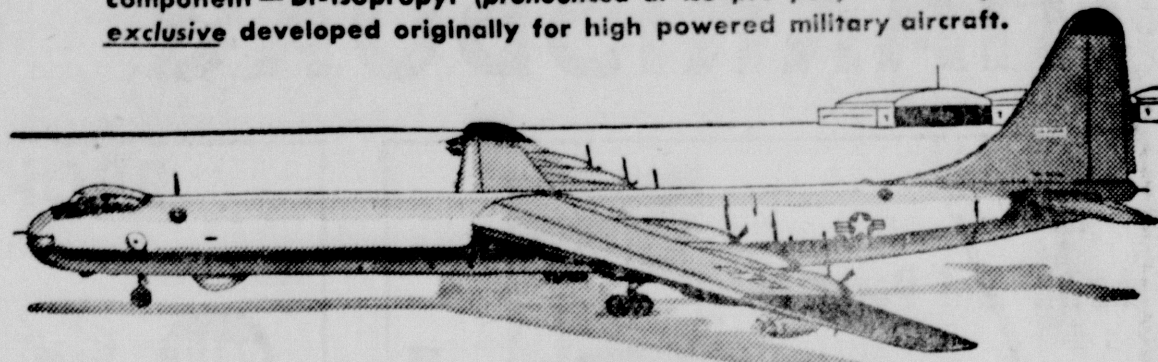

"I have tried in vain to get some information from the States, on an idea I once heard of, that you can paint a classroom to draw attention to the teacher," Nisarul Haque Qureshi said to me, as we grouped on the campus for picture taking.

"I would so like to know of this, and to exchange ideas with other professors on education. I must do so much for these children here in the Khyber, for they need to learn and they are so eager. Just a word, now and then, would be of great stimulus to me."

As we waved good-bye to Nisarul Haque Qureshi, I was promising that I would try to find out the answer to his inquiry.
